Chinese Immersion Task Force | Creating Our Norms

Effective groups generally have a set of norms, or ground rules, that support participation by all team members, efficiently facilitate the work of the group, and enable the group to accomplish its task. Norms typically address the following areas critical to the work of a group such as this task force.

LISTENING - active listening interruptions
LISTENING - active listening, interruptions
PAPTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all
PARTICIPATION - encouraging participation from all

DECISION MAKING - reaching consensus, managing conflict
CONFIDENTIALITY - what do we share after meetings?
EXPECTATIONS - expectations for members				