

Happy Friday, Kinder Families!

I do not have much to report this week. In comparison to the rest of the year, the time between Spring Break and the end of the school year seems to be the least hectic :) Sending you a brief letter today with a few announcements and reminders:

Congrats to Kenzie! A huge congratulations to Kenzie in our class who received special recognition for her artwork by Mrs. Bockelman! Out of the entire school, Mrs. Bockelman chose 20 pieces of art to display at the Blue Valley Library, including Kenzie's artwork! What an honor! We are so proud of you, Kenzie!

Last Day of School In case you did not see or receive the email from Dr. White earlier this week, the last day of school will be May 25th. This day will be a half-day. Please mark your calendars, however, as kindergarten will be hosting you all for an end of the year "performance" on this day!

Library Although we just had library checkout yesterday, we will still be returning on Monday for our regular checkout time. If your child is not ready to return their book, that is completely fine. However, if they forgot to pack their book on Thursday (again, I take full responsibility for this, so sorry for not giving you more of a heads-up!), they will have another opportunity to do so Monday afternoon. Thank you!

Spring and Plants This week, we have been discussing the season of spring, specifically things we may see, feel, hear, and smell in the springtime. During guided reading groups, we wrote and illustrated our own spring book! If your kiddo is in either the "yellow" or "green" groups, their "homework" for this weekend is to read this to someone at home! Those in the "red" and "blue" groups will be finishing these next week, so be on the lookout!

Supplies Needed Over the upcoming weeks, all kindergarten classes will be participating in our next ELA theme, "Stories Have Messages", during which we will be reading stories some classic stories, such as The Three Little Pigs and The Boy Who Cried Wolf. All three classes are asking parents for help in providing some supplies we will be using. If you are able to help with any of these items, please let me know. Thank you in advance for considering! I so appreciate all of your support!
